COMPLAINT

- v -)

DAVID J. KAPPOS, in his official capacity as Under Secretary of Commerce for Intellectual Property and Director of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, Madison Building East, Room 10B20
600 Dulany Street
Alexandria, VA 22314

Defendant.)

Plaintiffs TELES AG and Sigram Schindler Beteiligungsgesellschaft mbH, by their attorneys, for their Complaint in this action allege:

1. Plaintiff TELES AG ("TELES") is a corporation organized and existing under the law of Germany, having its principal place of business in Berlin, Germany.
2. Plaintiff Sigram Schindler Beteiligungsgesellschaft mbH ("SSBG") is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of Germany, having its principal place of business in Berlin, Germany.
3. On information and belief, defendant Daivd J. Kappos (the "Director") is Under Secretary of Commerce for Intellectual Property and Director of the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

4. This action arises under the Patent Act of 1952, as amended, 35 U.S.C. §§ 1-376.

5. The Court has subject matter jurisdiction to hear this action under 28 U.S.C. § 1331, 5 U.S.C. § 706, and 35 U.S.C. § 306.

CLAIM FOR RELIEF

6. TELES and SSBG collectively own all substantial rights in U.S. Patent No. 6,954,453 B1 entitled "Method for Transmitting Data in a Telecommunications Network and Switch for Implementing Said Method" (the "Schindler '453 Patent").

7. The Schindler '453 Patent issued October 11, 2005, on the basis of an application filed October 7, 1997, which claimed priority to a German application filed October 7, 1996.

8. The Schindler '453 Patent discloses and claims, among other things, switching apparatus for routing a telephone call from a first end terminal to a second end terminal, selectively by line switching and packet switching.

9. Between August 30, 2007, and January 7, 2011, the United States Patent and Trademark Office ("PTO") conducted an ex parte reexamination of claims 34-36 and 38 of the Schindler '453 Patent under the provisions of Chapter 30 of the Patent Act, 35 U.S.C. §§ 301-307.

10. On or about January 7, 2011, the United States Patent and Trademark Office ("PTO") affirmed a final rejection of claims 34-36 and 38 of the Schindler '453 Patent on the basis that the invention defined by those claims assertedly "would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains." 35 U.S.C. § 103(a).

11. Evidence concerning (i) whether there was a long-felt but unsolved need for inventions claimed in the Schindler '453 Patent, (ii) whether others addressed and failed to solve problem(s) addressed by inventions claimed in the Schindler '453 Patent, (iii) whether commercial products have achieved commercial success that is attributable, in whole or in part, to use of one or more inventions claimed in the Schindler '453 Patent, or (iv) whether others have recognized the non-obviousness of inventions claimed in the Schindler '453 Patent, is relevant to the obviousness or nonobviousness of the switching apparatus defined by claims 34-36 and 38 of the Schindler '453 Patent.

12. On information and belief, information and documents relevant to the validity of claims in the Schindler '453 Patent, including commercial success, long felt but unsolved need, failures of others, and recognition of patentability by others in the field, are held by third parties who are located in one or more districts of the United States.

13. Under the statutes and rules that govern the conduct of ex parte reexamination proceedings in the PTO, TELES and SSBG did not have any access to subpoenas under 35 U.S.C. § 24 or any other coercive discovery mechanism by which non-public information relevant to the validity of claims in the Schindler '453 Patent, such as software utilized to configure third-party switching apparatus believed to embody the claimed invention(s), could be discovered and presented to the PTO.

14. 35 U.S.C. § 306 provides: "The patent owner involved in a reexamination proceeding under this chapter may appeal under the provisions of Section 134 of this title, and may seek court review under the provisions of Sections 141-145 of this title, with respect to any decision adverse to the patentability of any original or proposed amended or new claim of the patent."

15. Sections 141-145 of Title 35, United States Code, provide two alternative forms of "court review." 35 U.S.C. § 141 provides that a dissatisfied patent applicant may "appeal" from an adverse PTO decision to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. In an "appeal" taken under 35 U.S.C. § 141, the appellate court reviews the decision from which the appeal is taken "on the record before the Patent and Trademark Office." 35 U.S.C. § 144.

16. 35 U.S.C. § 145, by contrast, provides that a dissatisfied patent applicant "may have remedy by civil action against the Director in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia." In contrast with the position of an appellant in an "appeal" taken under 35

U.S.C. § 141, the plaintiff in a “civil action” brought under 35 U.S.C. § 145 is not limited to the record that was made before the PTO, but may seek discovery and introduce new evidence in support of any issue that was raised before the PTO.

17. When, in a civil action brought under 35 U.S.C. § 145, new evidence is introduced that is relevant to an issue that was raised before the PTO, a district court must decide the issue de novo.

18. The PTO’s conclusion that claims 34-36 and 38 of the Schindler ‘453 Patent recite subject matter that “would have been obvious of the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art,” 35 U.S.C. § 103(a), is erroneous and should be reversed.

WHEREFORE, TELES and SSBG pray that the Court:

- (i) Declare, adjudge, and decree that the individuals named as inventors in the Schindler ‘453 Patent were entitled to receive, and properly did receive, a patent for the subject matter described in claims 34-36 and 38 of the Schindler ‘453 Patent;
- (ii) Declare, adjudge, and decree that the PTO’s final agency action in Appeal No. 2010-00115 is erroneous, contrary to law, and should be reversed insofar as it affirmed the final rejection of claims 34-36 and 38 of the Schindler ‘453 Patent;
- (iii) Direct the defendant to issue a reexamination certificate under 35 U.S.C. § 307 confirming the patentability of claim 34-36 and 38 of the Schindler ‘453 Patent; and
- (iv) Grant such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.
